

North Belfast Respect Programme

2010

Respect

Respect is feeling good about myself.

Respect is knowing I am unique and valuable.

Respect is knowing I am lovable and capable.

Respect is listening to others.

Respect is knowing others are valuable, too.

Respect is treating others nicely.

North Belfast Respect Programme

Foreword: North Belfast Respect Programme 2010 Ashton Community Trust CEO Paul Roberts.

I am delighted, on behalf of the Ashton Community Trust to warmly welcome you all along to the inaugural North Belfast Respect Programme.

While over the past three years a highly successful Respect Programme was held in the Greater New Lodge area, organised by the New Lodge CEP, this is the first time that such an impressive body of work is being delivered on a cross community partnership basis across North Belfast.

Ashton Community Trust has been asked to facilitate this body of work by the Office of the First Minister and Deputy First Minister who are co funding this programme alongside the Housing Executive.

The North Belfast Respect Programme is wholly about embracing respect for everyone, a practice we endeavour to implement in our everyday lives here at Ashton.

We, as a collective, believe that this year's programme involves a series of very worthwhile events that will be of interest to local people, community activists, the business and education sectors, government policy makers, politicians and society at large.

We believe there is something in this programme to interest everyone from cross community history tours, fun runs and youth drama productions.

We hope we will see friends old and new at these events which are designed to increase awareness around a range of issues and in the end produce a healthy amount of debate and a wealth of positive actions for the future.

The overall intention of the programme is to positively contribute to the development of a culture of respect that would move forward the day when all individuals regardless of politics, culture, ethnicity, creed, gender, sexual orientation, age or disability are treated as equals and can live, work and socialise together in harmony.

We hope that you enjoy the 2010 Respect Programme and we extend a very warm invitation to everyone who wishes to participate. We offer our thanks to all the organisers who have worked hard to create a truly unique showcase of events that displays the very positive cross-community relationships and ground breaking work that is happening across North Belfast.

Potted History Bus Tours

A series of tours around North Belfast, Stormont, Dublin and Wicklow will take place in October as part of a programme of events designed to raise awareness around a range of social, political and cultural issues that are important not only to North Belfast but wider society.

The potted history bus tours will take in areas such as the New Lodge, Mount Vernon and Tigers Bay and will be hosted by several home-grown tour guides. On the Dublin and Wicklow tours experts from the New Lodge based Glenravel Local History Project will take the lead while in Stormont the tour will be expanded to include a question and answer sessions with North Belfast assembly members.

The North Belfast tours will be hosted by individuals from these three areas and on the day, the bus tour will zig-zag its way along the timeline of North Belfast's history on a cross-community basis.

The tours will visit Tigers Bay and New Lodge on one day and Mount Vernon and New Lodge on another. After both tours a discussion will be held which will be facilitated by two leading conflict analysts.
